Louisville-based company provides customized CD and DVD mailing solutions

LOUISVILLE, CO – January 29, 2008– Media Mail Solutions, inventor of the innovative MediaSAFE Disc Mailer, has moved its headquarters to 357 McCaslin Boulevard, Suite 200, in Louisville, Colorado.

“We needed to move into a larger space to accommodate our rapid growth” said Ray Kamm, Vice President of Sales and Marketing, Media Mail Solutions. “By moving our headquarters from Nevada to Colorado, we are better able to serve our customers throughout the United States and Canada.

MediaSAFE Disc Mailers are designed to go through automated postal equipment and process as letters not parcels or flats, reducing postal costs and speeding up delivery times. Because the mailers can be customized with each customer’s logo and marketing messages, they are used by retailers, direct marketers, video and CD production companies, and other businesses that need to safely ship CDs and DVDs around the world.

Media Mail Solutions, Inc. has attracted the interest and use of major companies in the disc replication industry, the US Government, and large non profit organizations. Our growth in the Australasia market continues at double digit rates, with very large contracts with Government, DVD rental, and Fortune 500 companies.
